Doctors in Recital features musical talents of physicians

Sioux Falls residents can check out their doctors' musical expertise at the fifth annual Doctors in Recital, set for March 7, 2008 at the Washington Pavilion Great Hall. The physicians are donating their talents to raise funds for "The Art of Healing and Growing Program," which funds arts programs for the children at Children's Care Hospital & School, including music therapy and artist-in-residence visits.

Physicians performing include:

- Wilson T. Asfora, MD, *Neurosurgery – Guitar (with Dr. Kirke Wheeler on percussion & Alan Fetzer on guitar)
- Stephanie Broderson, MD, *Family Practice – Tuba quartet with Dr. Richard Hosen, Dr. Terry Bloom, and Dr. David Larsen.
- Nancy Carroll, MD, *Acute Care/Pediatrics – Violin (trio with Drs. Harris & Peterson-Henry)
- Mary Helen Harris, MD, *Emergency Medicine – Piano (trio)
- Dennis Knutson, MD, *Dermatology (retired) – Flute (with Jeremy Hegg, piano)
- Terri Peterson-Henry, DO, *Acute Care/Palliative Medicine - Viola (trio)
- Marian Petrasko, MD, *Cardiovascular Disease - Piano
- Kirke Wheeler, MD, *General Surgery - Piano & guitar (with Dorothy Wheeler, Terry and Doreen Pospisil, Mary Ryrholm, Jay Hardy, and Sue Severson)

International Steinway artist Stephen Marq, originally of the Sioux Falls area, also will perform. The event this year will include a silent auction and complimentary onstage reception for concert-goers. The reception will feature entertainment by Jeremy and Jon Hegg.

The two lead sponsors are Avera and Sanford Health, in addition to many other sponsors. Schmitt Music of Sioux Falls and Steinway Piano Company are also donating a portion of proceeds from Steinway piano sales to Children's Care, March 7 - 9.

Tickets are $17, and are available through the Pavilion box office: 367-6000. Event details are available from Children's Care Hospital & School at 782-8500.
